

Investigator of the Year Award - 2020

Since 1989, the Florida Advisory Committee on Arson Prevention has sponsored FACAP's Investigator of the Year Award to honor those individuals whose efforts have contributed to the suppression of arson in the State of Florida. Past recipients of this award are listed at www.facap.org.

In 2015, FACAP's Board of Directors determined that, starting in the year 2016, two (2) separate Investigator of the Year Awards would be presented by FACAP at its annual Arson Seminar. One award each, for those working in the Public Sector (i.e., fire service and/or law enforcement) and for those working in the Private Sector (i.e., insurance adjuster/ investigator, independent Fire O&C, analysis, etc.)

FACAP is currently soliciting nominations for potential recipients of these awards to be presented at its next annual arson seminar in March, 2020. These awards (Investigator of the Year, Private Sector and Public Sector) will be presented to an individual whose dedication, service, investigation, and work product, has resulted in a direct impact on Florida's citizens and insurance policy holders, through their efforts, skills and dedication in combating the crime of arson.

To nominate a member of your Agency (Public Sector) or your Company or that of an Expert that works for the insurance industry (Private Sector), please email a letter of nomination containing the individual's biographical data as listed below, and that candidate's accomplishment to Bill Watson, whose contact information is shown here:
